Buffet In A Box

What is it?

It is a buffet that turns up hot and stays hot until you are ready to serve.

How does it work?

The food is cooked then transferred into insulated containers, which are designed to keep the food hot (they only lose 1 degree an hour).

Once your guests are ready to eat just transfer the containers to the buffet table and let your guests help themselves.

At the end place it all back in the box (dirty) and we will collect it.

Only certain dishes lend themselves well to Buffet In A Box. Please speak to us for more details.
